

Partnership program:

The Teclib' Partnership Program is the framework for collaboration between Teclib' and you, our partners, offering a wide range of benefits, training resources, certifications, and rewards to ensure our mutual success.

Our Partnership Program is designed to optimize your profitability and make sure you are competent, regardless of your transaction model - whether it is resell, services or technology focused.

Your achievement and prosperity are important to us, that's why we are committed to rewarding you for contributing and investing in us.

Learn more about the benefits of our Partnership Program and align your business with the fast growing Open Source Solutions powered by Teclib'.

Why become a partner?

- Acknowledgement of the work accomplished by using and contributing in open source R&D projects.
- Marketing, promotion, training, and progressive relationship benefits for eligible partners.
- Get the leads of end-users and provide them our software integrations.
- Competitive advantage to be supported by Editors' product experts to win new deals.
- Offer adapted services that enable cost savings to your end-customer.
- Priority access to the development team in order to submit applications, contributions and new feature suggestions.
- Opportunity to earn additional margin and/or recurring revenue.

How to make your business grow?

As an eligible Partner, you develop your customers network by providing them integration services for Teclib' solutions implementation and packaged professional services to support them.

Consequently, your end-customers participate indirectly in permanent solutions' enhancement, and thus, in the improvement of quality of software and services you provide.
